Sipur Ahava Eretz Yisraeli – An Israeli True Love Story (2017)

Directed by Dan Wolman
(Hebrew with English subtitles)

Synopsis:

To mark Valentine's Day, we are screening 'An Israeli True Love Story'. The year is 1947. 18-year-old Margalit meets and falls in love with 24-year-old Eli Ben Zvi. Their love story is played out during the dramatic events preceding the birth of Israel.

Our film club is presented by Cristina Galisi, a graduate in Modern Languages and Cinema Studies, and features recent Israeli films related to either current Jewish themes or festivals. The evening will end with a discussion about Israel and Jewish themes in the film.

Screening 7.30pm, drinks and popcorn served from 7.00pm

There is no charge for admission but a contribution to costs would be much appreciated.

For further information please contact Cristina Galisi by emailing cristina@galisi.com or to register, please contact the Rabbis' PA by emailing rabbispa@ljs.org or by telephoning 020 7432 1283.

Kindly curated in association with the Eretz Programme, West London Synagogue.
